Coal Walkout Is Seen As Spur To Atomic Progress

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—(INS)—Sen. Wiley (R) Wis., declared today that the production-throttling coal walkout may force an "industrial revolution" by speeding the development of atomic energy for heat and power use.

Wiley warned that the nation no longer dare depend upon "one group or one supply of material for fuel."

His expression of views came as Sen. Knowland (R) Cal., laid before President Truman a four-point program to bring immediate relief in the soft coal crisis.

Knowland suggested: (1) A presidential "back-to-work" appeal directed to the miners; (2) an appeal for volunteers to mine coal, especially in strip mines; (3) local, state and federal protection for those willing to work; and (4) using the "big-inch" pipeline for transmission of natural gas and construction of additional lines to block any future fuel famine.

PA NEWCO OBSERVES

With deer season starting Monday, Pa. Newco met several nimrods with rifles and supplies heading for the deer regions this morning. They intended to be there "first with the most."

Today concludes the month of November, and also concludes a remarkable record as to weather conditions during the month. So far this fall, mild fall weather has been experienced, with a snowfall that left any trace on the ground. Some weather forecasters are inclined to believe a mild winter is to be experienced. But, on the other hand, there are some skeptics to this proposition.

Holiday business at the post office will begin to assume larger proportions today.

War Reparations Accord Problem Facing Big Four

Must Fix Italy's Reparation Payments That Will Not Wreck Nation's Economy

DECISION WOULD SPEED UP TREATIES

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—The Big Four face a hard task at the scheduled 4 p. m. meeting today in the problem of reaching an accord on reparations without wrecking Italian economy.

Early agreement or protracted delay in disposing of the five satellite treaties is closely bound up with the solution of reparations payments from Italy and Bulgaria to the states concerned, and the amounts to be paid to each.

At a meeting of the council of foreign ministers last night, Soviet Foreign Secretary Molotov in general conceded to the principle of equality in amounts payable from both defeated nations to Greece and Yugoslavia.

Smith, a member of the house foreign affairs committee, cited Roosevelt's criticism of the United States as quoted in the current issue of Newsweek magazine and declared:

"If what he is reported to have said is true he should be muzzled and sent home."

The congressman told Byrnes

Again Deny Princess Elizabeth Is Engaged

LONDON, Nov. 30.—(INS)—The Royal British household stood pat today on its announcement of last September 7 that Princess Elizabeth is not engaged to be married and again branded new reports of such an engagement as inaccurate.

Despite the denial London society betting regards it as a five to one certainty that the engagement of the princess to Prince Philippe of Greece will ultimately be announced.

Following consultations with the court, weekend at Windsor Castle, an official of the Buckingham Palace household, whose attention was drawn to a France Soir story, authorized International News Service to repeat the September 7 denial.

This said:

"Princess Elizabeth is not engaged to be married. Any report published is therefore inaccurate."

Pressed for more explicit comment on the possibilities of a romance between the princess and Prince Philippe of Greece, the official said:

"There is nothing further to say."

Year Is Making All-Time Record For U. S. Strikes

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—(INS)—The labor department disclosed today that an all-time American record for strikes will be set in 1946.

A bureau of labor statistics report showed that 4,095,000 workers walked off their jobs as a result of labor disputes up to Nov. 1.

The work stoppage in the soft coal mines involved 400,000 men and brought the total to 4,495,000—eclipsing by 335,000 the former record, set in 1919.

The bureau reported that maritime strikes accounted for more than a third of the 9,500,000 man days lost in September and October.

In October, 450 work stoppages involved 290,000 workers and approximately the same number of workdays in September affected 380,000 employees.

The report showed that federal conciliators settled 276 work stoppages involving 157,000 workers in October.

Conciliators also settled 1,137 threatened strikes and other labor-management disputes during October.

Two Shippensburg Men Perish When Large Barn Burns

Intense Heat Routs 15 Families From Nearby Apartment, Cause Of Fire Unknown

SHIPPENSBURG, Pa., Nov. 30.—(INS)—Two men were burned to death early today when fire swept a barn in Shippensburg.

They were identified unofficially as Alfred Cramer, 50, and Alexander Reed, 40, both of Shippensburg.

Firemen said the remains were discovered after the blaze was brought under control and that they had been unaware the barn was occupied. Cramer reportedly lived in the structure.

The intense heat from the fire routed 15 families from a nearby apartment and disrupted telephone service between Shippensburg and Carlisle for some time. The apartments were not damaged but three automobiles stored in the barn were destroyed, firemen reported.

The cause of the fire was not determined.

Contempt Trial Appears Headed For High Courts

Stunning First-Round Setback By Lewis' Defense Indicates Legal Appeals

TRIAL IN RECESS UNTIL MONDAY

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—John L. Lewis' efforts to avoid punishment for contempt in refusing to halt the 10-day-old coal walkout today appeared headed inevitably for appeal to higher courts.

Attorneys for Lewis, after a stunning first-round setback, showed clearly that they will not be content to rest on the ultimate decision of Federal District Judge T. Alan Goldsborough if it is a verdict of guilty.

The government almost certainly will appeal any verdict.

Basis For Appeal

Welly K. Hopkins, United Mine Workers chief counsel, laboriously registered a score of objections to the government's precaution of the contempt proceedings, and insisted that they be written into the record—a record that will form the basis for any appeal.

Lewis went on trial for contempt after Judge Goldsborough denied his motion to vacate the proceedings and ruled that the Norris-La-Guardia anti-injunction act does not apply to the government's efforts to halt the walkout of 400,000 bituminous miners.

This was the very heart of Lewis' defense. The UMW president had contended that he did not have to obey the court's restraining order against the walkout because the order was illegal. Lewis argued unsuccessfully that the Norris-La-Guardia act prohibited such an order.

The trial was in recess today. It

Live Stock Show Opens In Chicago

Over 10,000 Entries In International Livestock Exhibition—Worth Over $5,000,000

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—(INS)—Carefully groomed farm animals, valued at more than five million dollars, were ready for competition today in the 47th International Live Stock Exposition in the stock yards amphitheater.

The exposition one of the greatest shows of farm wealth in the world, opens its eight-day program tonight with a record entry list.

Over 10,000 Exhibits

A total of 10,490 blooded cattle, sheep, swine and horses was entered to compete for $100,000 in prizes.

Included also in the 29 acres of exhibits were samples of farm products vying for awards in the international hay and grain show.

In addition, commercial exhibits featured a display of 300 cuts of meat.

More than 125,000 persons were expected to see the agricultural panorama representing exhibits from 41 states and three Canadian provinces.

Junior Competition

Farm boys and girls entered a number of animals in the junior live stock feeding.

Their ranks were thinned yesterday as stock experts culled the 1,425 junior entries of steers to 350. Those rejected sold for up to $40 a hundredweight.

The junior entries will be watched cause nine times the grand champion steer has come from their ranks.

File Application For Imposing Of Fines On Miners

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 30.—(INS)—Western Pennsylvania coal operators today filed application with the Navy Coal Mine Administration to fine miners $1 a day for absenteeism under terms of the AFL United Mine Workers contract.

Their action was taken as retail dealers on the eastern seaboard reported coal stockpiles of from 24 hours to four days only and predicted heatless homes if the paralyzing strike is not settled.

The Western Pennsylvania Coal Operators Association reported that the assessment action was being taken by individual operators, who themselves are subject to a similar penalty if the fines are not imposed.

The money is turned over for welfare work among the mining communities. It is not to be confused with the $13,000,000 welfare fund received from the five-cent-a-ton royalty under the government's contract with John L. Lewis.

While plans for the penalty went forward, the Solid Fuel Administration office at Altoona, Pa., which supplies the entire eastern seaboard from Maryland north, reported merchants pleading for fuel shipments from the emergency reserves to replenish their vanished stockpiles.

What will the sport writers do for news, now that football is done? Can they fill their columns with this and that, say news of the red and gun? For basketball isn't under full steam and golf has been done for weeks, so the writer of news will be forced to hunt for copy in woods and creeks. So say goodbye to the gridiron sport. If football should be your dish, it's fifty-one and it's bright and clear, and a mighty good day to fish.

Statements Of E. Roosevelt May Be Probed

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—(INS)—Two members of Congress today took cognizance of the recent remarks attributed to Elliott Roosevelt in Moscow and one demanded that the State Department revoke passport privileges on the late president's son.

Rep. Lawrence H. Smith (R) Wis., demanded in a letter to Secretary of State Byrnes that Roosevelt be ordered to return from Russia at once.

Rep. John Rankin (D) Miss., acting chairman of the House committee investigating un-American activities, said that Roosevelt's remarks are subject to review by the War and State Departments.

Rankin was opposed to having his committee investigate Elliott's statement. He said:

"This is not a case for the committee on un-American activities. I understand Mr. Roosevelt is a reserve officer in the United States army and subject to court-martial for any offense against the United States. Besides, the State Department has a right to revoke his passport in such a case."

"The committee on un-American activities has its hands full investigating subversive activities here at home without usurping the prerogatives of the State and War Departments in matters of this kind."

Adult Election Attitude Irking German Youths

SERIOUS YOUTHS IN MARCH PROTESTING PARENTS' IGNORANCE CONCERNING ELECTION

WIESBADEN, Nov. 30.—(INS)—Six 14-to-15-year-old children took their parents to task today in vivid fashion in connection with tomorrow's constitutional election in Wiesbaden.

They walked the streets with "sandwichboard" signs protesting the ignorance of their parents in regard to the election.

The march did not have any particular political significance and was not sponsored by any political party, although it was approved beforehand by the military government.

It was staged to impress the world that grownups were not reading the constitution which will guide future Germans.

The unique demonstration was devised by Heinz Soell, 28, a former member of the Wehrmacht, and a graduate of a Long Island, N. Y., school for democracy for prisoners of war.

Soell quizzed the youngsters about their parents' reaction to the proposed constitution and found that 80 per cent hadn't read it. So out came the "sandwichboards" and the protest.

The signs said: "We boys beg you to go to the polls December 1 with a true feeling of responsibility for polling. Read the constitution in order that you can truthfully vote yes or no."

Onlookers' reaction ranged from some who said "Did Goebbels send you?" to others who thought it was a "good idea."

BAN ON A-BOMB DEMAND BEFORE U. N. COMMITTEE

veto powers in the security council deliberations.

To Retain Veto Right

Vishinsky told the committee that Russia was determined to retain its veto right in the operation of any "inspection" group.

Vishinsky's statement followed an announcement the day before by Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov that the Soviet accepted "in principle" the "inspection and control" proposals for world disarmament. It was pointed out at the time of Molotov's statement that the Soviet definition of "inspection and control" might differ from that of the western nations.

Vishinsky said the atomic bomb is a "sword of Damocles" and there can be no disarmament.

Senator Tom Connally of the United States spoke before Vishinsky addressed the committee. He opposed placing the U. N. atomic energy commission under the security council where any member of the Big Five could nullify its decisions by exercise of its veto power. He said:

"The jurisdiction and authority of the commission with respect to atomic energy need not and must not be impaired."

It was pointed out that under the Russian plan any "inspection" of arms or weapons in Russia would be done by Russians who would report to the security council. The American and British plans call for international teams of experts to make real inspections of all countries.

IT'S NOT TOO EARLY TO PLAN FOR THE TREE

This year will be an old fashioned Christmas. All the family home, uniforms put away, now it's time to get back to a Christmas like we had B. H. (Before Hitler).

That means a Christmas tree, of course, and it isn't too early to begin planning for it. The earlier you order your tree the less you have to think about it and the more certain you are to get what you want.

Our trees this year will please you.

portions during the coming week, it is indicated. All of which is an added emphasis to the warning of Postmaster W. R. Lanna to "mail early."

Out on one of the hills of Lawrence county, Pa. New noted what had all the earmarks of being a quonset hut, which was apparently in use as a home for some local family.

An unprecedented number of post-holiday shoppers were noted on the downtown streets Friday afternoon. Most of the city buses were carrying capacity loads with the South Side buses not able to carry all the passengers going south around 2 p. m. Most shoppers were going home loaded down with packages which will evidently be labeled "Do not open until Christmas."

East Side residents, around Pearson street area, were receiving some pre-Christmas caroling Friday evening, Pa. News learns. Four teen-aged young ladies were making their way about the neighborhood singing carols. The girls evidently wanted to get a good start and be in practice for Christmas eve.

The weatherman has been sort of tempering the winds to us shorn lambs, during the coal shortage period. Last year at this time the weather was quite blustery, and we had around three inches of snow during the last week in November.

Christmas tree vendors will have to find storerooms on the side streets when tree sales begin this year, Pa. News notes. In other years numerous storerooms on East Washington street were used, but the rooms are no longer empty but are occupied by various businesses.

L. J. Lewis of the Metropolitan Concert Guild called Pa. News this morning to inquire whether any Pa. News readers, especially veterans of the European campaign would have a flag of Iceland to loan for the Iceland Singers, appearing at the Iceland. It would be nice to have the flag of Iceland along with the flag of the United States, Mr. Lewis can be contacted at the Pennsylvania Power Company.

The last day of November seems late to be planting spring-blooming bulbs, crocuses, snowdrops, but one gardener on the North Hill, inspired apparently by the spring-like weather, is doing that very thing today.

Numerous outdoor games were in progress on Friday afternoon, Pa. News noted. The weather was comparatively mild despite the nearness of December 1.

former prisoners of war and Russians used as slave laborers by the Germans."

He added:

Spilled By Living Standards

"The Russian troops, they found, also are spoiled by the high living standards and are openly criticizing the Soviet regime in the presence of Germans."

The American informant declared that the special Russian inspector commission came to the conclusion that these men "were militarily valuable and were undermining German respect."

He declared:

The emissaries decided on the large-scale removal and replacement of the men with picked, well-equipped units smaller in number but larger than the United States constabulary."

The American expressed the belief that Marshal Vasily Sokolovsky, Soviet commander-in-chief in Germany, may follow his troops home after the withdrawal is completed.

May Follow Same Fate

Sokolovsky, he suggested, may share a fate similar to that of his predecessor, Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov.

Zhukov, conqueror of Berlin, was removed from his occupation command last March and made commander-in-chief of Soviet ground forces.

The promotion was only temporary, however. A short time later he was placed in command of the Odessa military district.

The American official said the withdrawal has been going on for some time and has been known to American generals. None of the officials, however, would comment officially.

Some observers believed the withdrawal is connected with the United Nations discussion of a troop census.

The movement from Germany may be part of a 300,000-man cut. Premier Joseph Stalin last month announced the intention of slashing Russian forces in the west from 900,000 to 600,000 men before Jan. 1.

nowhere, leaving the crux of the problem to be solved at the meeting today in the Waldorf Towers.

Although in the five treaties of unsettled points in the five treaties as laid before the council by the deputies, the three and a half hour session yesterday evening bogged down when it was discovered that Yugoslavia's demands for more reparations from Italy and Russia's efforts to whittle down the war levies on Bulgaria met with stubborn opposition from the western delegates. The efforts of Soviet Russia to reduce payments to be earmarked for Greece were given an equally cold shoulder.

Byrnes Aids Bevin

Secretary of State Byrnes, wavering at first toward a Molotov compromise offer lowering the total amount to be bestowed on Greece as war reparations, later sided with British Foreign Secretary Bevin's vigorous defence of Greece for the full share voted her at the Paris 21 nation conference.

On that basis, Greece is earmarked to receive 100 million dollars from Italy and 62½ million dollars from Bulgaria. Molotov strove with might and main to give Yugoslavia the lion's share of total Italian reparations while seeking a drastic reduction in the 125 million dollar assessment for reparations against Bulgaria. He maintained that Bulgaria was an ally during the later part of the war.

Bevin challenged every effort to cut Greece's total allotments with unyielding efforts. Rebutting Molotov's move to have Albania included in reparations grants, Bevin said sharply:

"It looks to me as if the conference here is trying to rob countries which were attacked to relieve the attackers."

The British minister added that he perceived no reason to change the decisions of the Paris conference.

URGES BYRNES TO REVOKE PASSPORT OF E. ROOSEVELT

that Roosevelt's remarks "certainly do not square with the principles you advocate," Smith added:

"He is making your task more difficult. He is supporting Molotov, who, no doubt, will now become more bold."

The legislator declared that the damage caused by Roosevelt's pro-Soviet stand "is immeasurable." Smith charged that "he has openly courted Soviet favor at the expense of our stand and prestige abroad."

As Amateur As Wallace

Smith styled the son of FDR "an ambassador of ill-will" and continued:

"He is outdoing Henry Wallace and he is just as much an amateur. You can silence him by revoking his privileges. Return him to this country where he can do no harm."

"I am sure that it would happen to me under the same set of circumstances, would it not?"

"For national security purposes it is imperative that you do this immediately."

will be resumed at 10 a. m. (EST) Monday with Judge Capt. N. H. Hollister, federal coal mines administrator, still on the stand as the government's first witness.

As the government-UMW court battle progressed, it became apparent that Lewis intended to "sit tight" and take no action under the court order requiring him to withdraw the notice terminating the miners' wage agreement with the government.

Lewis clearly indicated his "stand pat" attitude when defense attorneys entered a firm plea of "not guilty" to the government's charges of violating the restraining order.

Hopkins already has served notice that the court's action in extending the restraining order to Dec. 7 will be appealed. It is expected that the union also will appeal the court's ruling on the Norris-LaGuardia act and the dismissal motion.

Believes Lewis Had Pleaded

Before receiving the union's formal "not guilty" plea, Judge Goldsborough indicated his belief that Lewis previously had pleaded guilty in entering a plea of "non-compliance with the court's order."

The jurist observed that in an earlier court session the union "made a categorical statement that no action was taken to carry out the order of the court."

Judge Goldsborough apparently referred to Hopkins' statement of last Monday. Hopkins said that since issuance of the court order Nov. 18 the defendants "have done no act not spoken any word" pertaining to the contract termination notice "or in reference to permitting it to continue in effect."

The contract termination notice was issued by Lewis three days before the court's restraining order.

Setback To Hopes

Meaningful hopes for settlement of the crippling coal walkout through union-industry negotiations received a setback from 10 members of the board of directors of the Southern Coal Producers Association, bitter foe of Lewis.

The 10 directors disclaimed any connection with the statement of Association President Edward R. Burke, who said mine operators would be happy to start negotiations with the union under a two-week truce. He proposed that the miners go back to work under the government-UMW contract and called a board of directors meeting for Monday.

The statement of Burke's directors and the views he expressed are his own and we regret that he saw fit to publicize them at this time. There is a time and a place for contract negotiations, but it is not proper while this matter is in the federal courts."

Not In Behind-Scenes Move

The White House also announced that President Truman had entered in any way into reported behind-the-scenes talks to effect a settlement of the coal walkout independent of the court action.

Sen. Knowland (R) Calif., proposed to Mr. Truman that the nation's strip mines—open pits which comprise about 1 to 18 per cent of total bituminous output—be operated by volunteers or the army, if necessary.

The California also said the government should put its whole resources into opening the big and little hatch pipelines for natural gas.

DOMESTIC COAL USERS NOW FACE HEATLESS DAYS

chants in Pittsburgh had only a two-day supply. At Niles, O., merchants reported no coal available for household consumption. At Martinsburg, W. Va., in the heart of the bituminous fields, dealers had only enough coal to supply a normal four-day demand.

Warnings that conservation orders must be carried out came from President Leo R. Gorton of the American Retail Coal association. He told members of the association that the average community had only enough coal to last 12 days.

As the nation's coal pile dwindled to the danger point, solid fuels administrators kept a tight rein on all leaving which has been "frozen," residential users with less than a 10-day stockpile.

Schools were granted a priority but were limited to a 10-day supply of fuel.

In Spain on Christmas Eve, or Nochebuena, throngs of young people crowd the streets anxious to perform "good deeds" before church bells toll the hour of the Holy Birth.

Latin-America Shakeup Of Envoys Seen As Imminent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—(INS)—Diplomatic observers today expected a reverberating shakeup of United States envoys in Latin-America as soon as the situation clears enough to make it possible.

For the time being, the state department was not expected to take any drastic action. But the deep-seated differences revealed by communications between Argentine President Juan Peron and New Orleans Shipbuilder Andrew J. Higgins, was said to have clinched a decision to act.

Better Be a Bit Wary Of Those Cheap Prices

The smart motorist doesn't shop for price when he has automobile repairs to make. He wants to know that when he drives his car out of the repair shop it will stand up.

Outstanding skill is not a cheap commodity, neither are parts. When someone begins to sing you the siren song of "cheap automobile" repairs, better be a bit wary. Some cheap things are expensive at any price.

Harlansburg High Gives Play Friday In Liberty Grange

Cast Performs In Excellent Style; School Orchestra Plays During Evening

Harlansburg High school seniors presented the three-act comedy "Where's Grandma?" in the Liberty Grange hall before a capacity audience Friday evening.

The play centers around a grandmother who tries to please the younger generation by dying her hair red and by taking French lessons. Not until every member of the family is made unhappy does Grandma decide to be a real person and bake pies for the family.

In the cast, Irene Dean played Grandma; Doris Richeal was the chief member of the Blake family; Jerry Allison was her husband; Donna Heckathorne was a modern young girl; Harold Lorio was the dashing grandson; Ruth Pherson and Doris McCracken were colored servants; Evelyn Strawhecker was a "dime store girl" in love with the hero, and Josephine Post was the haughty rival.

Music was furnished by the school orchestra under the direction of Mrs. S. E. Eakin. Between acts, a lovely pin was presented to Miss Mary Lou Sewall, director of the play.

Baroness Will Be Speaker Here

Wife Of German Baron, Who Escaped From Nazis, Will Address Executives Club

Is Europe going to drop into the hands of Stalin like an overripe plum into the greedy paws of a small boy, or is there going to be a spiritual rebirth upon the continent, which will make the regenerative process of the present governments efficacious? In other words, is Europe going left or right?

These questions and many others will be answered for members of the New Castle Executives club at their dinner meeting in The Castleton, Tuesday evening, December 10, when Helena, the Baroness of Polenszka, will address the club. She is American born, of a Russian mother and Scandinavian father, and the wife of a German baron, who came from Poland. She was taken captive by the Nazis, but escaped after a series of blood-curdling adventures.

Coal Warfare May Close Some Of U. S. Colleges

Veterans Administration May Face Problem On Matter Of Educational Allowances

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—(INS)—The coal walkout today presented the Veterans Administration with a critical problem on veterans' educational allowances.

The crisis was pointed up by Dr. George F. Zook, president of the American Council on Education, who asserted that "coal warfare" threatens to close scores of colleges and make it impossible for veterans to carry out their part of the educational program.

Veterans officials said Administrator Bradley plies to make public his interpretation of the GI Bill's intentions as quickly as possible so that veterans will know in advance where they will stand financially if schools start closing.

These officials said the legal aspects of the case are being studied by VA Solicitor Edward E. Odum and his staff.

Rocket Program To Be Expanded

Army Air Force Announces V-2 Rocket Program Will Be Increased

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—(INS)—The Army Air Force announced expansion of the V-2 rocket program in the wake of the first successful study of the ionosphere through use of the projectile.

The AAF revealed that the program, conducted at White Sands, N. M., will be extended to May, 1948, to permit the firing of 50 V-2 guided missiles.

Only 25 of the V-2 rockets were to be fired under the old plan. An AAF announcement stated: "The first successful study of the lower ionized layer of the upper atmosphere was completed last week at White Sands, N. M., when an army ordnance V-2 missile containing special instruments rose to an altitude of 63.5 miles."

Record Upper Stratosphere
The instruments were designed to record properties of the upper stratosphere and to provide data on the reflection and refraction of radio waves in the ionosphere which is about 55 miles up.

The V-2 also carried cottonseeds which will be returned to Dr. S. L. Whipple of Harvard university for analysis.

It was disclosed that corn seeds previously carried in missiles, were later found to be unable to germinate after exposure to the heat of the V-2's flight.

The AAF said that its study was particularly important as it was the first time a V-2 attained extreme heights with properly functioning equipment for measuring the ionosphere.

Previous experiments failed because of mal-functioning of radio equipment in one instance and mechanical failure in another.

Zionists Counter Deportation Move

JERUSALEM, Nov. 30.—(INS)—Palestine Zionists reacted today to the deportation of nearly 4,000 illegal immigrants to Cyprus with heightened determination to speed the movement of European Jewish refugees to the Holy Land.

The Jewish National Council made plans to implement its decision that every Palestine Jew must contribute a half-day's pay for the movement.

Observers believed that the deportation, upheld yesterday by the Palestine supreme court, angered Jews who had recently supported the Jewish agency's condemnation of underground violence.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

When he excels in many things, he sees that he observes the excellence of others of his age in one thing he does not do so well, and cultivate in him the habit of admiring their achievement, of expressing strong enthusiasm for the successes of his fellows. Nothing harder perhaps. The whole principle of sportsmanship is involved.

As the child grows old enough to play with others, the more children of his age he freely mingles with, the more he has an opportunity to learn sportsmanship. That child, who from the time he can toddle, has played freely with all the other children of his size and age of the neighborhood, always getting into the rough and tumble, the arguments, fights and quarrels, and physical contests of the home and school playground, learning to take his own part, settling his own controversies, is hardly likely to be a conceited child. Almost always then he will come in contact with others who excel in something. Through such contacts he learns due humility. My new bulletin, "Your Child and His Playmates," may be had in a stamped, addressed envelope by writing me at 235 East 45th street, New York, N. Y.

Concise of Joseph
Interpreting the childhood concept of Joseph of Bible history in the light of human nature and human psychology, we see a good sample of a very conceited, brilliant, pampered child, hated by his own brothers because his parents had spoiled him, given him too much attention, and shielded him from the normal, early social education.

But Joseph must have had some other training at home which was excellent and which brought rich dividends, once he had had the conceit taken out of him. Joseph must have been a very bright lad. Probably he had an IQ approaching 200.

Some very brilliant children of today will, in some respects, be more fortunate than Joseph was, not spoiled or pampered by their parents, but given the opportunity to learn reasonable humility and sportsmanship by continuous contact with many other children.

Consider Plans
For Operation Of Pipelines

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—(INS)

—The government disclosed today that steps are being taken for immediate operation of the big and little inch pipelines to transport natural gas during the coal strike emergency.

Ralph K. Davies, acting director of the oil and gas division of the interior department, disclosed that conferences are underway between government agencies and private operators.

Participating in the conferences are the interior department, federal power commission, army-navy petroleum board, war assets administration, Big Inch Natural Gas Transmission Co., Big Inch Oil, Inc., Tennessee Gas Transmission Co. and the Trans-Continental Gas Pipeline Co.

Max W. Ball, petroleum geologist and formerly with the petroleum administration for war and P. McDonald Biddison, consulting engineer, have been called in as consultants for the interior department.

Davies said that the discussions concerned various phases of placing the pipe lines in service on short notice for the emergency period only. He said they have no bearing on ultimate disposal of the lines by the war assets administration.

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—(INS)—Miss Elizabeth Green, a University of Chicago student, was en route today to Holyoke, Mass., where she hoped to help authorities solve the mysterious death of her father, Col. Donald R. Green.

An autopsy failed to disclose the cause of death.

Local Pilots Plan

Florida Air Tour

Application blanks for the Florida air tour, a migration of light planes of less than 125 horsepower, to the winter vacation state, are being filled out by the local pilots who expect to make the tour.

For the sixth year any pilot or owner of a light plane may make the flight, getting free gas and oil from the Gulf Oil company. Four separate airways have been established, with over 40 refueling points. The airways converge at Orlando and branch out from there to Florida's east and west coasts.

The air tour is an inducement to cross-country flying in small planes and will have participants from all over the country.

As yet Findley Wilson Aviation Service and the Penn-Aero Service, both located at the New Castle airport, are not yet sure how many will be flying from here. Entrants may make the trip any time between January 2 and January 26.

Traffic Deaths Show Increase

Record For October Shows 5 Per Cent Decrease In Nation Over 1945

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—(INS)—October accidents claimed 3,120 American lives but for the first time in 1945 fewer persons died in traffic mishaps than during any previous month.

In addition, October traffic fatalities were 160 lower than for the same month in 1945, a reduction of five per cent.

The National Safety Council, in announcing the tabulation, said its prediction of 38,000 traffic deaths for this year had been revised to correspond with the October drop. The council's new forecast is 34,000, based, it reported, on increasing awareness by motorists and pedestrians of traffic perils.

Deaths through October totaled 27,520, a sharp 25 per cent increase over the first ten months of 1945. However, the increase results primarily from an extraordinary number of deaths during the first six months in 1946, said the council survey.

Twenty-four of 43 reporting states showed declines last month 17 reported increases over October, 1945, and two said there had been no change.

Thirty-seven cities, led by New Britain, Conn., with a population of 68,700, passed their tenth month without a single traffic fatality. Second largest city of the group was Passaic, N. J., while Hamtramck, Mich., ranked third.

Brazil's area covers three-sevenths of the whole South American continent.

MAINE IS HUNTING FOR "PERFECT HEN"

AUGUSTA, Me., Nov. 30.—(INS)—The state of Maine sought the "perfect hen" today.

The "perfect hen" was described as one that would lay plenty of eggs and also produce chicks that would grow into "meaty" broilers and roasters for the delighted housewife.

The hunt will be carried out at the Maine egg laying test, one of 18 official poultry research stations in the country. It is the first experiment of its kind ever undertaken by a state agency.

The test entails matings of regular commercial strains and crossbreeds.

OBJECT TO DESIGN OF ROOSEVELT STATUE

LONDON, Nov. 30.—A hue and cry against the design for the Franklin D. Roosevelt memorial statue, which represents the late President standing, grew louder.

Fifty-one more members of Parliament, bringing the total of 80, signed a motion criticizing the proposed Grosvenor Square statue as "inadequate and unworthy."

The Daily Telegraph printed a picture of the statue in Washington which shows Abraham Lincoln seated—the posture favored by most objectors to the Roosevelt statue.

EX-OFFICER GUILTY OF BLACK MARKETING

BERLIN, Nov. 30.—(INS)—Lewis Warner, former United States Army officer and member of a New York exporting and importing family, today was convicted on all counts by a Tempelhof court-martial for participating in a world-wide black market ring.

Warner was fined $2,500. The court-martial ruled this could be paid in installments, but if Warner runs behind schedule he will be liable to six months at hard labor.

Start Burning Oil At Cleveland, Ohio Generating Plant

Change Is Made Due To Coal Strike Shortage Of Coal At Electric Plant

CLEVELAND, Nov. 30.—(INS)—The Cleveland Electric Illuminating company began burning oil in its generating plants this morning in an effort to save coal and prevent curtailment of electricity uses by its customers.

The conversion will save nearly 6000 tons of coal daily, three-fourths of its normal usage. Up to one million gallons of oil will be burned daily when the conversion process reaches its peak.

Similar moves have been reported throughout the country, but the Cleveland plant is by far the largest so far to convert.

John D. Battle, executive secretary of the National Coal company, said in Washington that the C. E. I.'s action indicated what might happen throughout the nation.

Lewis has been driving coal out of markets because the price of coal has gone too high. Battle declared, "He is pricing his men right out of jobs. Then, when coal can't be had, price or no price, the situation turns companies to other fuels."

New Defense Program Urged For United States

By FRANCES MUSIC
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Immediate initiation of a 12-point defense program taking into consideration the possibilities of atomic and germ warfare was urged today by a semi-official service publication. Belief was expressed that government state and city agencies and industrialists would take action regarding passive defense requirements in their localities if they were kept abreast of developments in new weapons.

The Coast Artillery Journal maintained that "the passive defense against heavy bombardment and possible atomic bomb attacks demands immediate attention as the weapons necessitating this defense are already in existence."

Recommends Program

It recommended that a defense program "be immediately initiated for the United States and its possessions and that a study be made of the British and German systems in order that we may incorporate into our plans the experiences of both these nations."

A cool, logical analysis asserted must be made of the following phases of the over-all passive defense program:

Defense against biological warfare.—The potentialities of this type of warfare are unlimited and any system of passive defense would fail short if this potentiality were not considered.

Dispersion.—The separation and decentralization of vital governmental and industrial agencies.

Bomb-proof shelters.—A study of the requirements for personnel, material, food, etc., and construction of underground power plants, communications and other utilities.

Camouflage.—Damage control; evacuation of civilians injured from areas subjected to enemy action.

Sabotage.—Screening of factory employees and the conduct of loyalty checks in installations where manufacture or research vital to the defense of our country is being conducted.

Defense against chemical warfare.—Plans for gas-proofing factories and shelters and provisions for protection of the civilian populace.

Bomb disposal.—Disposal of unexploded bombs, designation of restricted areas and other means for protecting people from this menace.

Demolition.—This action should cover plans for destruction on vital installations in event of imminent capture to deny their use to the enemy.

Alarms.—Due to the complexity of modern warfare different alarms must designate the various alerts in order that appropriate action may be taken since measures vary considerably with the type of attack.

Obstacles.—Area conducive to the landing of enemy planes and gliders must be made unserviceable to these craft in time of war. Necessary surveys and materials must be prepared and kept in readiness.

China Gals Don't Go For UNRRA's Girdles

LONDON, Nov. 30.—(INS)—All of Fiorello H. LaGuardia's patience and fortitude isn't going to make the women of China wear girdles, free or otherwise.

"That, at any rate, is the opinion of Laborite Rees Williams.

Williams charged in the House of Commons that some U. S. firms are "dumping" on UNRRA goods they cannot sell in the United States.

He said he heard—just heard, mind you—that the ladies of China like their hips unconfined.

He had this to say, on the subject of girdles:

"Whatever relief and rehabilitation these (girdles) might have given the ladies of New York, they are really not the kind of thing to give the peasants of China who, by hearsay, I understand, don't wear such things."

Minister of State Hector McNeill promised to investigate if Williams is just a bit more "explicit".

In English verbiage, incidentally, Williams called them "body-belts".

Army Will Dispose Of Surplus Chapels

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 30.—(INS)—The war assets administration announced today that it will dispose of 500 to 600 chapels in which members of the armed forces worshipped during the war.

Frank L. McNamee, Philadelphia regional WAA director, said 200 of the structures, located on military installations throughout the country, have already been declared surplus.

He added that negotiations are under way to assure the continued use of the chapels as memorials, shrines, or places of worship. McNamee said approximately 30 chapels already have been sold for religious purposes, and three as memorials to the war dead.

Columbus's second expedition to the New World was made in 1493 with 17 vessels carrying 1,500 persons.

MULCH EVERGREENS RECENTLY PLANTED

Much all recently planted evergreens and shrubs with well-decomposed hardwood sawdust or peat moss to protect them during the winter. Care in handling these materials is necessary, since contact with the crowns of plants may result in sun-scald.

Another suggestion: Dig shallow trenches in perennial beds where water may collect around the crowns of these plants.

Shade trees planted in the fall need their trunks wrapped in burlap or special tree paper to prevent bark sun-scald.

By examining the shrubs now that the leaves have fallen, any cross-cutting branches can be detected and removed. Pruning broken branches from shade trees gives them a better appearance.

Former Enon Man To Head Religious Studies In Schools

It was announced today that Rev. Melvin L. Best, of Pittsburgh, former resident of Enon Valley, has been appointed director of weekday religious education for the Pennsylvania State Council of Christian Education. Dr. Ivan M. Gould, general secretary of the council at Philadelphia, made the announcement.

Rev. Best will cooperate with state and local councils of churches and of Christian education, ministerial associations and school authorities in the development of the program for weekday religious education for school children of Pennsylvania.

For the past nine years, Rev. Best has been pastor of the First Central Presbyterian church of Pittsburgh and has long been interested in Christian Education and interdenominational cooperation.

HARRISBURG, Nov. 30.—(INS)—Gov. Edward Martin, of Pennsylvania, was asked today by the street and traffic safety lighting bureau to urge motorists and pedestrians to exercise caution during the "brown out".

"The alarming 1946 death rate for traffic after dark will jump 20 or 30 per cent or more if proper precautions are not taken under the dimming of existing street lighting which, at best, is entirely inadequate for safe visibility," the bureau reported.

FLEET OF TRUCKS RUINED BY BLAZE

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 30.—(INS)—Fifteen large trucks lay in ruins today following a two-alarm fire which swept an auto repair and rental shop, causing $70,000 damage.

Twenty families were routed from their homes by flames and gas tank explosions which destroyed the one-story structure owned by Ellis Brothers. A patrolman on duty discovered the blaze.

Not Only Sugar, But Honey Is Also Short

Earlier reports of a honey shortage have now been verified.

Not only do you not have enough sugar, but you also do not have much of a chance of getting any homegrown honey for Christmas cookies.

It seems that honey—the kind that comes from beehives, was largely used up during the long, cold spring instead of being kept for winter food supply.

As a result, apiarist Henry Badger of East New Castle finds that he and many of his fellow beekeepers in the county won't have much for sale, and might not even have enough to keep the bees alive all winter.

In fact, beekeepers might look forward to a cold winter, for in cold weather, the bees are dormant, and do not eat, whereas in warm weather they waken up and want a good meal.

If the weather is too cold, however, the outside bees of the cluster die and fall off, and the beekeeper loses out that way.

In an average winter, a small cluster of bees consumes about 40 pounds of honey, and a large cluster uses up about 45 or 50 pounds.

So it will be July or August before much local honey is available again, it seems.

Small Haul In Indiana News Office Robbery

BEDFORD, Ind., Nov. 30.—(INS)—A mechanical pencil and 50 cents in postage stamps comprised the entire loot today of the burglars who ransacked the newspaper office of the Bedford Times-Mail.

The robbery last Thursday night, however, drew editorial comment from the newspaper which said:

"The Times-Mail is flattered. To the knowledge of all the people in this organization, this is the first time a newspaper office has ever been broken into. We thank you for the compliment."

"You fellows are obviously new at the game. Experienced thugs know that practically all the money a newspaper receives is in the form of check, and there are very few of them the last few days of the month. Please accept our best wishes for very poor success in your chosen profession."

FERRY VESSELS CARRYING JEWEL DOCK AT CYPRUS

KYRENIA, Cyprus, Nov. 30.—(INS)—Three British ferry vessels carrying nearly 4,000 illegal Jewish immigrants departed from Palestine arrived today at Cyprus and the first batch was landed at 8:40 a. m.

The disembarkation of the men, women and children aboard the Empire Heywood, Empire Rival and Ocean Vigor is expected to take three days.

TWO NEW TRAFFIC RULES IN EFFECT

Cochran way has been opened to two-way traffic between North and West Washington street, according to Police Chief Robert D. Hanna. It has been heretofore a one-way thoroughfare. Highland avenue between Stewart Place and Falls street has been made a no parking zone, the chief added.

SOLDIER CLEARED

NAPLES, Nov. 30.—(INS)—Staff Sgt. Charles E. Nicoloff, of Chicago, was absolved today of a charge he shot a Russian soldier in Belgrade last February.

The verdict of the military court after a two-day trial was announced in the presence of an official Yugoslav observer.

Shoot At Deer Not Road Signs; Appeal Of State

Officials of the State Department of Highways today directed an appeal to deer hunters when they take the field this fall to refrain from using traffic markers as targets. The photograph shows a mutilated sign which has been shot at by someone with a high powered rifle.

"These traffic signs have been erected to promote safe driving," Ray F. Smock, secretary, said. "Mutilated signs are of little value to the motoring public. Their effectiveness is lost and damage to signs may result in serious accidents and the loss of life."

"Since the war the department has been unable to purchase new signs to replace those damaged and also to erect new ones at danger spots because of the serious shortage of steel."

"Traffic signs are public property. With the deer season approaching it is hoped that hunters will consider the safety of motorists and not use these signs for targets."

WOMAN'S USUAL CRY: I HAVE NOTHING TO WEAR

"My 18-year-old sister grouches constantly because she does not have more changes of dresses. She thinks that she must have a new evening dress almost every time she goes to a dance. I tell her that boys are hardly conscious of a girl's dress other than the fact that it is becoming or unbecoming. Don't you think so?"

Answer: The younger men are the less conscious they are of the details of a girl's clothes beyond their fit and general effect. Placed between two girls—one dressed like a millionaire and the other in modest clothes of a working girl—a young man will turn to the one having the greater appeal. Moreover, a man in moderate circumstances is very likely to shy away from a girl whose wardrobe is elaborate to the extreme unless, of course, he knows that her own financial circumstances may well bear it, since he will have the bills to pay if he marries her. He may well know that such a woman will lead him too near the porthouse with her extravagance and craving for clothes.

If your sister hesitates to wear a dress many times because she thinks it would indicate a lack of money, she is suffering from a false sense of values. Any man whose appraisal of her would be in proportion to her wealth should be sent on his way—the sooner the better.

Question: I am planning a luncheon in my home. Please give me some hints, including the time it should take place.

Answer: The usual time for a luncheon is between one and one-thirty and guests should arrive on the hour appointed or a few minutes before; never a few minutes after. The hostess who sits or stands near the living room door goes forward to meet incoming guests and makes any necessary introductions. The hostess leads the way to the dining room with the guest-of-honor. But if there is a host, he leads the way with the woman guest-of-honor and the hostess with the man guest-of-honor comes last. Men, with the exception of the host and the guest-of-honor, do not take the women in as they do at formal dinners.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly mail personal replies to questions from readers enclosing stamped, self-addressed envelopes.

NAME WINNERS OF 4-H AWARDS

Wisconsin Boy, Nebraska Girl To Get Trophy From Truman, Plus Scholarship

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—(INS)—A 20-year-old farm boy from Westby, Wis., and a 17-year-old farm girl from Exeter, Neb., Friday were named the winners of the national 4-H club achievement contest.

Each will receive a trophy presented by President Truman, and a $200 college scholarship.

The announcement of the awards was made at the opening of the 4-H club 25th national congress held in conjunction with the International Livestock Exposition.

Laverne E. Hall has done pretty well for himself in his eight years of 4-H club work, and highly thought of by the folks back home at Westby.

He started out with a puny Jersey heifer.

Cites Income

Today he estimated his club work has brought him an income of $52,026.06—club members keep careful records.

Laverne today owns 49 purebred Jersey milkers, with a record so good that last year he was named Wisconsin's Jersey champion breeder.

As a sideline to the dairy business began when his dad presented him with the little heifer. Laverne found time to turn out between four and five hundred fat hogs a year, build up a herd of 24 Hereford beef cattle, and participate in coltlected for their honor from among 1,700,000 club members.

Their runnersup were George C. Fry, 20, of Laytonville, Md., and Mildred Jean Massey, 19, of Coldwater, Miss.

From 1939 to 1946, inclusive, congress appropriated $13,104,500 to federal aid in wildlife funds for projects in the various states.

Army And Navy In Annual Grid Classic In Philadelphia

Davis - Blanchard In Farewell Game For Army Eleven

Crowd Of 103,000 Fans Pack Municipal Stadium For Service Classic

ARMY EXPECTED TO WIN HANDILY

By DAVIS J. WALSH
(International News Service Staff Writer)
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 30.—This is the day when sparkle and lilt and gaiety and all the vital things that seem implicit with the American creed will keep an appointment with posterity down on the dun-green vistas of what was once a city dump.

The game started at 1:30 p. m.; the place, Philadelphia's Municipal Stadium, and the appointment, a historic meeting before the shrine of football's gift to romance—the annual Army and Navy game, this time more than a spectacle.

Farewell to be something of epic proportions, with a celebrated Army team aroused to give accomplishment by an imminent prospect of finishing three successive seasons today without a defeat. Even more provocative was the fact that the occasion was to furnish the setting for a hail-and-farewell curtain bow by the two great figures of college football.

They are Glenn Davis and Felix (Doc) Blanchard, a backfield partnership that, season after season, has had the opposition in straits, disorganized retreat and the press doing conniptions.

Expect 103,000 Fans
They will be playing for the last time down there in the shallow crater before a saturation point crowd of 103,000 people, gathered in resplendent panoply for the most intriguing event in all the 47 meetings of a vivid and highly theatrical series.

The President was to be there, accompanied by Mrs. Truman. Senators, cabinet members and eminent journalists will attend in profusion. Braid and brass will abound.

HORNETS BATTLE BISON

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 30.—(INS)—The Pittsburgh Hornets will take to the ice tonight against the Buffalo Bisons, in an attempt to bag their fifth win in the last six contests.

The Pittsburgh skaters will be bolstered by the return of Mel Hill to the right wing spot. A home victory tonight could possibly break their tie with Indianapolis for second place in the Western Division.

Plan To Discuss Baseball Fields

A meeting of the city baseball league officials, the fields committee and several invited guests will have a 7 o'clock meeting at the Legion Home Monday night for the purpose of discussing baseball fields for New Castle in 1947.

The following will attend the session: Roger Rowland, Howard Cummings, Sid Lockley, Len Gilbert, Joseph Frigone, George Zidow, Joseph O'Leary, Michael "Jake" Babovsky and C. P. "Bugs" Walther, the latter three officials of the city league.

Pozza Beats Bell At Ellwood City

Fierce Attack, Heavy Punches Win Him Unanimous Decision Of Judges

GILLESPIE LOSES; GUY ELISCO WIN

Bill Pozza, rugged Ellwood City slugger, defeated Ike Bell, tall and fast 170-pounder, Youngstown, in fast 170-pounder, Youngstown, in fast three rounds, Friday night in the Ellwood City high school gymnasium. The decision was unanimous.

The battle was the feature of a Dapper Dan program of eight amateur fights to help a fund to pay expenses of the Ellwood City high school football eleven's trip to camp in 1947.

Bell stood a head taller and had a reach several inches longer than Pozza, and outboxed the Ellwoodian in the opening round.

However, in the second round, Pozza's tornado-like and versatile attack to head and body paid dividends. His heavier punches exacted their toll and several times Bell was glad to clinch.

Guy Elisco Wins TKO
Bell tried to ward off Pozza in the third with his long left and a right cross but Pozza's vicious attack beat down Bell's guard and upped an one occasion Bell grimaced wearily when he was slugged in his own corner.

As predicted by The News, the battle of Ike vs Bell ran true to form. It was one of the best light-heavyweight amateur fights seen here and every fan left satisfied with the fight and the decision.

Jim Gillespie, Akron, who battles Les Leasure here soon, was beaten by Carl Rouse, Youngstown, in three rounds. Rouse was the smarter middleweight and after a hard fight was awarded the nod.

Guy Elisco, New Castle, scored a technical knockout over Tennis Middle of Meadville in the third round. Middle complained of pains from a blow to the head. Elisco weighed 225 and Middle 198.

Other Results
Tommy Mason, Youngstown, decided Paddy Grimes, 145, Monaca, three rounds. The decision was unpopular.

Eddie Brennan, Akron, decided Billy Parker, Monaca, Monaca, 135, three rounds.

Rip Harris, Youngstown, scored a TKO over Bobby Bell, Youngstown, 126, in the third round.

Pete Misto, Youngstown, decided Bob Tabor, Youngstown, 145, three rounds.

Al Sildar, Monaca, won a knock-out over Ralph Manning, 138, Meadville, in the second round.

Rowland Baum, Pittsburgh, was the referee and John Luciano made the matches for the Dapper Dans. About 1,500 attended the show.

Titans Proud Of 1946 Grid Record

'Y' All Stars, Geneva In Tilt

Strong "Covie" Five To Furnish Cage Attraction In Game Tonight At "Y"

Geneva college's potent squad of veteran cageurs will oppose the Y.M.C.A. All-Stars in an exhibition game at the association floor tonight with the tip-off slated for 8:30.

Coach "Slim" Ransom will bring a squad to the city which is top-heavy with veterans, including Dave Podbielski, all-star selection last winter, plus a long string of other battle-tested passers.

The main "act" will be preceded by a match between the junior quints of the Third U. P. church and the Croton Methodists, with the game beginning at 7:45.

All-Stars Primed

Coach Frank Reed of the locals probably will use the same five men that humbled the Youngstown college Penguins in their last appearance here. Bob Pitzer and Joe Cooper will share the forwards. Plan Pitzer will be the center with "Lefty" Tanner and Eddie Nahas, one-time pupil and coach, at the guards.

This is the third such game featuring district colleges at the floor and the "Covie" will be followed by Slippery Rock State Teachers and Salem, W. Va.

A small admission charge will be made for the games.

Eagles-Steelers To Battle Sunday

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 30.—(INS)—The Philadelphia Eagles hung up help-wanted sign today.

The team wants at least 35,000 fans to crowd into Shibe park Sunday for the Eagles' tilt with the Pittsburgh Steelers.

A new National Football league rule says that teams finishing in the first five places in average gross receipts for home games will be awarded six home games for the following season.

New York, the Chicago Bears, Los Angeles and Pittsburgh have the first four places sewed up. The Eagles will crowd out Washington for fifth spot if those 35,000 people show up.

LALLO SABOTIN MEETS KOMOLO

Won Decision Over Komolo Recently; Leasure And Bradley On Calendar

Johnny Komolo, Fredericktown, Pa., reported to be the national amateur middleweight champion, and Lallo Sabotin, Warren, O., G. G. champ, will headline the eight-bout amateur dock in The Arena Monday night. Sabotin, winner over Jack Keogh, Cleveland G. G. champ, here last summer, recently decided Komolo, hence the coming set is a return bout.

Rudy Williams, light-heavyweight of Akron, who was defeated by Sonny Marsh of Akron, here, November 18, will box Clyde Jenkins, said to have been a runner-up in the national AAU finals at Boston. Sometime ago Jenkins beat Chris Tabor here.

Carl Jones, Sr., A. M. A. champion at 138, will take on Vic Kondick of Akron. Vic decided Clyde Wagner of Niles, here, November 18. Kondick is not scheduled but he carried the fight to Wagner.

Another Chapter In Feud
The Jim Gillespie of Akron vs Lester Leasure, this city, feud will have its third chapter Monday night. Leasure won by a TKO in the first bout and captured the second via points.

Other bouts scheduled are: Billy Myers of Struthers vs Don Marinos of Youngstown 135, Dave Kuhno of Warren vs Bob Yee, a Chinese, at the five-weight limit and Charles Williams of Pittsburgh vs Ed Brandon of Akron, 135.

Hardin-Simmons In 'Chili' Bowl

ABILENE, Tex., Nov. 30.—(INS)—Hardin-Simmons university, unbeaten in nine football games this fall, has accepted an invitation to play in the new "Chili Bowl" game at San Antonio, Tex., New Year's Day.

Coach Warren Woodson announced the acceptance.

Hardin-Simmons' opponent has not been selected as yet.

The move more or less leaves El Paso's Sun Bowl attraction in the lurch. Ordinarily, the border champion is the host team at El Paso. Texas Tech and Hardin-Simmons, which play in Abilene today for the league championship, have turned down bids to the Sun Bowl.

Illini Accept Rose Bowl Bid

Formal Acceptance Is Matter Of Course After Conferences Sign 5-Year Pact

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—(INS)—The University of Illinois Friday officially accepted the Pacific Coast Conference's invitation to play UCLA in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif., on New Year's Day. The announcement was made by Douglas R. Mills, director of athletics at the University of Illinois, whose statement said:

"The University of Illinois has accepted an invitation of the Western Conference to represent it at the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif., January 1, 1947."

Illinois' participation was expected as a matter of course after the Western Conference recently signed a five-year pact with the Pacific Coast Conference for the annual Rose Bowl classic.

Committee Votes
The vote of a nine-member faculty committee at the Champaign, Ill., institution was needed to make acceptance of the bid official.

Illinois won the 1946 Western Conference football championship and will meet UCLA in the Rose Bowl despite the Illini's faculty committee vote not to sign a pact with the Pacific Coast league.

Officials at the University of Illinois met the embarrassing situation with the announcement that although they did not approve of the five-year tieup they were willing to go along with the majority vote of the Western Conference.

A spokesman for the Illini said the team probably would commence practice in earnest about December 15. The Illini won the right to meet the Uclans by capturing their first Big Nine title in 18 years. Only teams to defeat Illinois were Notre Dame and Indiana.

The UCLA team is undefeated and untied, and won its way into the annual gridiron extravaganza by downing USC last week, 13 to 6.

Midwest Leading In All-Americans

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 30.—(INS)—Dick Harlow, Harvard coach, said today that the east is running behind the midwest and south in nominations made to date for the 1946 edition of the all-American team to be selected by the American Football Coaches Association.

Harlow, president of the association, said the midwest is leading with the most candidates, followed by the south, east, west coast and southwest.

The final selections, however, will not be announced until Dec. 21. Last year, the east won seven positions on the coaches' dream team.

The association's 475 members send in weekly ballots on outstanding players during the season. Some 400 have been nominated to date.

Approval Given Sale Of Plant

Action Taken In Court On Friday In Sale To Standard Steel Spring Co.

OTHER NEWS OF COUNTY COURT

Final approval upon the sale of the plant occupied by the Standard Steel Spring Company, to that company, was given Friday in court when Judge W. Walter Braham signed the papers which provide for the transfer. The plant, formerly occupied by the New Castle works of Carnegie-Illinois, was taken over some years ago under an agreement between the City of New Castle, the County of Lawrence and the Greater New Castle Association.

The Standard Steel Spring Company took the plant over on lease during the war with an option to purchase it. This option has been exercised, the plant has been sold to the company and the Standard Steel Spring Company now owns the property, it occupies.

Taking the plant over by the agreement was a piece of a far sightedness. It is a satisfying thing to see a company of the calibre of the Standard Steel Spring Company own it.

Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD

International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 30.—(INS)—Jovial Charles Coburn ain't as young as he used to be, but he loves every single minute of life. "Why, just being alive is great, if you know how to use your time," Charlie said.

He's got his own idea, too, what's the matter with the world today. "It's plain and simply violation of the tenth commandment," he said, "it's just sheer covetousness. Too many people want what belongs to someone else."

"I've never wanted what wasn't mine. If some other man has something I like, I don't try to take away what's his. I try to get one like it on my own."

You reporter spent a pleasurable hour talking to Charlie on the set of "Personal Column." Hunt Stromberg's latest. It all started when we got to telling Charlie what a great job he did in "The Green Years."

"I liked playing that character," he said, "he was such a lovable old vagabond. People enjoy those characters, even in real life, you know that."

Charlie said he keeps happy by doing the things he likes to do. He keeps up a remarkable interest in football, and he and a friend like to see a game and bet on every play.

"You can't imagine how much fun you can have doing that," he said.

When we got to talking about the south, Charlie recalled that last year he paid his first Christmas visit to his native Savannah since he left there when he was 19.

"I've been back before, of course, but never on Christmas, but somehow things weren't quite the same," he said. "When I was a boy in Savannah we used to have a wonderful time on Christmas with fireworks. We'd all put on raincoats or something heavy and shoot roman candles at each other."

"They don't do that any more. I missed it."

M-G-M is giving Cyd Charisse four months off after she completes "The Unfinished Dance," but she's looking forward to her next film chore in April with undisguised delight.

"I'm going to dance with Gene Kelly in my next, 'Cabbages and Kings,'" Cyd, her beautiful face beaming, said, "I never wanted to do anything so much."

"It's just what I've been waiting for."

As soon as her dancing sequences are wound up in a few days, Cyd takes off for Palm Springs for a week in the desert sun.

Icelandic Singers Here On Tuesday

From the Land of the Midnight Sun, the Icelandic Singers come to New Castle Tuesday night, December 3, for the second concert of the Metropolitan Concert Guild. L. J. Lewis, president of the guild today announced that special arrangements for the Icelandic singers had been made and the indications point to a concert of unusual merit.

Doors will be opened at the Cathedral at 7:30 promptly. It is urged that members be in their seats at least ten minutes before curtain time. No one will be ushered to a seat during the singing of a number.

This is the first appearance of the Icelandic Singers, a male chorus, in this section of the country and music lovers are looking forward with anticipation to the evening.

Payment for the week totaled $1,629 which was $416 higher than those of the comparable week of last year.

PRESENT BUDGET TO COUNCIL MONDAY

When council convenes at 10 a. m. Monday the estimate of expenses for the operation of the city government next year will be presented, according to Finance Director Albert Hoyland. According to a recent announcement the council does not propose to increase the tax millage if it can be avoided.

Easing Of Dimout Sought In Holiday Shopping Season

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—(INS)—The Broadway Association appealed to Washington today for easing of the nightly blackout during the holiday season.

In a telegram to CPA Director John D. Small, Robert K. Christenberry, president of the association, asked that one-fourth of normal window lighting be permitted so that "no unnecessary or undue hardship be imposed on merchants or the public in making purchases."

Christenberry suggested that interior lighting in Broadway establishments could be reduced to compensate for the increase in display lighting. He also urged continuance of the ban on outdoor lighting.

Chesnut Trees Will Be Planted

HARRISBURG, Nov. 30.—(INS)—An experiment designed to restore huge stands of chesnut trees ravaged by the blight was scheduled today to be carried out next spring by the Department of Forests and Waters.

R. Lynn Emerick, director of the Bureau of Forests, said 100 seedlings, eight to 10 inches in length, will be planted in two experimental plots in Logan township, Huntingdon county.

Emerick said the seedlings will be of the hybrid Nanking variety which have successfully resisted the blight in the south.

Mail All You Want But Mail It Early Postmaster States

Hanna Urges Local Patrons To Do
Their Mailing Earlier This Year
To Avoid Congestion

Mail all you want to, but mail it early, is admonition sounded by Postmaster William R. Hanna.

Christmas cards and packages which are being sent out of town should all be in the mail by December 10, he states, and local mail should be in the post office by Dec. 15. If this request is heeded, everyone will get their mail by Christmas, Mr. Hanna states, but if everyone puts it off until the 11th hour, some folks will be disappointed.

Between 30,000 and 40,000 letters are handled here daily under a normal schedule, but when the post office is asked to handle 200,000 more daily on top of this, it means that it just can't be done on time.

Patrons are asked to mail their packages early, putting a label or writing on the outside, "Do not open until Christmas."

Because of the coal strike, many trains have been taken off by railroads, which means that those trains which are operating will have to haul a double load. On many of them, there will not be enough room to handle all the sacks, so that it will gradually create a bottleneck.

However, if Christmas mail is put into the mails during the first two weeks of December, it will distribute the load and avoid any chances of a bottleneck occurring in the closing days of the pre-Christmas season.

Many Items To Be Casualties Of Coal Strike

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—(INS)—Sulfa drugs and many of the new postwar plastic materials today were among the numerous casualties of the coal strike.

Coal tar derivatives are the basic chemicals for many synthetic products, including the sulfa drugs, and many chemical concerns expressed anxiety over their dwindling supplies.

The plastic industry said flatly it would be paralyzed if the strike continues more than a month.

Also threatened by a prolonged strike are the promised new telephones which will be made from plastic materials.

Spokesmen for the hosiery manufacturers said production of nylon hose also will suffer if the walkout lasts any appreciable time.
